

Fiber Optic Cable Retraction Device

Overview

Fiberoptic retractors are tools used to hold back tissue and give surgeons a clear view of the surgical field. The EZ 15 cord blowing machine is specifically designed for pulling cord through microducts with an inner diameter of 4 to 20 mm over short distances (up to approximately 500 m). The cord is guided through a 500 m long conduit by the airflow in just 30 seconds. For cables with an inner diameter of. Array of Left and Right Retractor Blades to accommodate anatomical variations Retractor blades pivot 30° to increase wound exposure Retractor blades dock firmly into vertebral bodies to increase stability Integrated. It is incorporated with fiber optic technology, thus ensuring that the surgeon has clear access to deep. Professional Results: Our fiber optic cleavers are designed for seamless fiber optic connections and repairs, helping you achieve professional-grade results. Suitable for technicians and DIY enthusiasts alike See more product details Amazon. com Voluntary 30-Day Return. ONETRAC™ LX is a single-use, cordless surgical retractor with integrated multi-LED light source and dual smoke evacuation channels. They are compatible with virtually all.
