

How much does one meter of Huijue cable tray cost

AI Overview

Huijue cable trays typically cost between $2 and $25 per meter, depending on material, type, and finish. The price of Huijue cable trays varies primarily based on material and design. Common materials include:

- Galvanized steel: Most widely used, balancing durability and affordability, generally $2–$15 per meter.
- Aluminum: Lightweight and corrosion-resistant, ideal for outdoor or coastal installations, typically $6–$30 per meter.
- Stainless steel: Highly durable and corrosion-resistant, suitable for harsh industrial or chemical environments, often the highest-priced option.
- FRP (Fiber Reinforced Plastic): Non-conductive and resistant to aggressive environments, ranging $10–$50 per meter.

Tray type also affects cost: ladder trays are more expensive due to their load-bearing capacity, while perforated or wire mesh trays are cheaper and suitable for lighter cabling. Surface finishes like hot-dip galvanizing (HDG) or powder coating increase durability and cost, whereas pre-galvanized trays are more economical but less resistant to corrosion. Additional factors influencing the final price include shipping, labor for installation, and bulk order discounts. For large-scale projects, unit costs can be significantly lower, sometimes approaching $1–$2 per meter for bulk procurement. In summary, for a standard Huijue cable tray, you can expect a price range of $2–$25 per meter, with higher-end materials and specialized finishes pushing the cost toward the upper limit. For precise pricing, contacting suppliers directly for quotes based on material, tray type, and project volume is recommended.
