

Ireland GPON Equipment QSFP

AI Overview

Ireland offers a range of GPON SFP modules and QSFP transceivers for high-speed fiber networks, supporting both enterprise and telecom deployments. GPON Equipment in Ireland GPON (Gigabit Passive Optical Network) equipment is widely available in Ireland for FTTx (Fiber to the x) deployments. Key components include:

- GPON OLTs (Optical Line Terminals): Devices like the Ufiber OLT 8 provide 8 GPON ports, supporting up to 128 clients per port and a total of 1024 concurrent clients over fiber distances up to 20 km.
- GPON SFP Modules: Modules such as the UF-GP-B+ are designed for GPON slots in OLT units, offering asymmetric speeds of 2.5 Gbps upstream and 1.25 Gbps downstream, SC connectors with UPC polish, and a 20 km range.
- PLC Optical Splitters: Essential for P2MP (Point-to-Multi-Point) networks, these splitters have low insertion loss, high return loss, and compact form factors for easy installation in cabinets and patch panels. These components are suitable for both residential and enterprise fiber deployments, ensuring high reliability and scalability.

QSFP Modules and High-Speed Optical Solutions QSFP (Quad Small Form-factor Pluggable) modules are critical for high-speed data center interconnects in Ireland, particularly in Dublin's tech hubs:

- QSFP-DD (Double Density): Supports 400 Gbps and 800 Gbps speeds with an 8-lane electrical interface, offering higher port density and lower power consumption per bit.
- High-Speed Transceivers: Vendors like Supersonix provide 50G GPON OLT QSFP-DD modules supporting multiple TX/RX rates (49.7664 Gbps, 24.8832 Gbps, 12.4416 Gbps, 9.95328 Gbps, 2.48832 Gbps) with hot-pluggable design and high-sensitivity APD.
- Data Center Applications: QSFP modules are used in AI clusters, HPC, and DWDM networks to achieve low-latency, high-bandwidth connectivity, with options for 200G, 400G, and 800G deployments. QSFP modules are standardized under specifications like SFF-8679, ensuring compatibility and reliable electrical and thermal performance.
