

Manufacturer of low-loss transparent optical cables

AI Overview

Leading manufacturers of low-loss transparent optical cables include CommMesh, Hangzhou Photoelectric Technology, Hongan Group Corporation, Ningbo Haishu Efon Communication, and Shenzhen Wirenet Telecom Technology. Key Manufacturers and Products

CommMesh produces transparent fiber optic cables with a 2.0 mm LSZH jacket, achieving over 90% light transmittance. Their cables feature a refractive index of 1.4, UV stabilization, bend radius down to 7.5 mm, and tensile strength over 60 N, making them ideal for indoor installations where invisibility and safety are critical.

Hangzhou Photoelectric Technology offers transparent fiber cables with high review scores and moderate minimum order quantities (20 km), suitable for medium-scale deployments.

Hongan Group Corporation provides cost-effective solutions for large-volume projects, with prices around $0.01/meter and minimum orders of 1000 meters.

Ningbo Haishu Efon Communication balances quality and flexible quantity tiers (2–100+ km), making it suitable for pilot installations or phased rollouts.

Shenzhen Wirenet Telecom Technology has 17 years of industry experience and is recommended for organizations prioritizing manufacturer longevity.

Technical Considerations

- Light Transmittance: High transparency (over 90%) ensures minimal signal loss.
- Bend Radius: Advanced fibers maintain signal integrity even at tight bends (as low as 5 mm for G657.B3 standard fibers).
- Durability: UV-stabilized jackets resist yellowing, and LSZH materials meet flammability standards (UL94-V0).
- Installation: Self-adhesive variants simplify routing along walls or corners, while flexible designs allow easy handling in tight spaces.

Indoor vs. Outdoor Use: Standard transparent fibers are designed for indoor applications; outdoor deployment requires UV-resistant jacketing.
