

Price of distribution box casing clips

AI Overview

Distribution box casing clips typically range from $0.50 to $5 per piece, depending on brand, material, and quantity. Overview Distribution box casing clips are essential accessories used to secure wiring and components within electrical distribution boxes. Prices vary based on material (PVC, polyamide, or metal), brand, and pack size. For example, Hensel DK cable junction box clips are part of high-quality IP54-IP69 rated enclosures, which may influence the cost. ABB also offers polyamide end stoppers and terminal block accessories, which are priced individually or in bulk. Price Range Retail packs: Small packs of clips for home or office use generally cost $0.50-$2 per clip on platforms like Amazon. Industrial or branded clips: High-quality or specialized clips from brands like ABB or MODI'S can cost $2-$5 per clip, especially when designed for heavy-duty or high-safety installations. Wholesale orders: Bulk purchases from suppliers or manufacturers (e.g., Global Sources) may reduce the per-unit cost significantly, but prices depend on order quantity and customization. Where to Buy Online marketplaces: Amazon (DE, UK) lists various distribution box clips with prices varying by size and brand. Manufacturer catalogs: ABB and MODI'S provide detailed accessory listings, often requiring direct inquiry for exact pricing. Wholesale suppliers: Platforms like Global Sources allow bulk orders with factory-direct pricing, suitable for large projects. Tips for Purchasing Check compatibility: Ensure clips match the distribution box type and size. Consider material: Polyamide or PVC clips are common; metal clips may be needed for high-temperature or industrial applications. Compare pack sizes: Buying in bulk often reduces cost per clip. Verify certifications: Look for ISI or CE certifications for safety and quality assurance. For the most accurate pricing, it is recommended to visit the product page or contact the supplier directly, as prices fluctuate based on stock, region, and quantity.
